

Richard Vögeli is an entrepreneur who brings more than 30 years of broad-based, international experience in the energy and insurance industries to the table. His work focuses on the development of green economy in developing countries, and supporting local and federal government as well as private companies in the implementation of sustainable processes. In addition he teaches sustainable finance at the institute for Economic, Bank- and Finance-Management of the University of Liechtenstein.

He works since 2005 as an independent consultant. Between 2001 and 2004, he successfully built up Global Risk Strategies, a private equity firm. Prior to forming Global Risk, Richard Vögeli managed an international team at Swiss Re. The focus of his team was the energy industry. He started his career in the chemical and pharmaceutical industries in research and development.

Education: PhD in Chemistry, University of Oregon, USA, Certificate of Management Studies at the Advanced Management Program Oxford University, Great Britain